STRONG EMOTIONS AND EXERCISE IN HOSTILE ENVIRONMENTS

Nature and sport, a chance to focus on the target metaphor. The team faces the adversities of an hostile environment to reach the set goal. We think that these aggregation xperiences made in the middle of nature can promote the coming up of solid working teams and the spontaneous leadership's expression. We propose also some unusual sports that urge to think and to concentrate thus allowing the communication of basic concepts, in relation to the motivation and to the rediscovery of one's capacity of facing the fear of the unknown.
